   2. Questions
      a. Sen. Hill: I understand it violates OMA but I’m confused by the fact that it says we’re allowed to in the Lawbook so should it not say that? Because if the Lawbook allows it, is it now up to interpretation to us senators?
         i. Attorney General Lutz: Later in the Lawbook we voted to always follow New Mexico state law. So State law supersedes our lawbook. I strongly encourage striking this motion down in order to comply with State law.
ii. Sen. Hotz: You can introduce special business to the agenda but it must be 72 hours in advance, for future reference.

iii. Sen. Regalado: Like everyone else said, we should vote no, or anything we do in this meeting is void.

3. Vote
   a. MOTION fails with a vote of 18-1-0

5. MOTION to approve the agenda
   1. MOTION is seconded and passed

2. Preliminary Business
   1. ASUNM President’s Report
      1. Welcome to the final Full Senate meeting for the semester, one big update from the executive branch is Governmental Affairs has finalized our budget request for the State Legislature. We will also pursue funding for lighting and security at residence halls. This year GA is searching for sustainable funds for the lottery scholarships and this is a big thing to push for so we need the support of students, and I ask you as senators and students to support. I want to commend you all for your work this semester. To the Senators not returning next semester, you can always reach out to me if you need anything.

   2. Guest Speaker: Lisa Lindquist
      1. Thank you for having me, I was a Senator before most of you were even born. Being a Senator was a highlight of my time at UNM, I did a lot of things but it wasn't till Senate in my senior year that I thought about how to give back to my university. I was on the finance committee and y'all's work is even harder than mine was, so I commend your hard work. I commend you for being Senators during this time and I hope that even in a pandemic you’re making a personal connection, helping university, and putting students first. As you know, Ryan Lindquist is my husband and I always hear the meetings, and yall are so professional. Thanks for taking the time to give back to your university. I work at the university Directory of Lobo Respect Advocacy program. I started as the test administrator, then I moved to the Dean of Students office, then in 2018 we made the Lobo Respect and Advocacy program and we built from the ground up and that is a program all about providing advocacy for students. We centralize around sexual misconduct but we help with a lot of other issues as well, like the mental health of students and it's been really gratifying work. We also run the Lobo Food Pantry. We saw a need and answered it, and with the help of some Senators as well. I'm super proud of these things and it's all rooted from my days in the Senate at UNM and with that, I'm open to questions.

1. Questions
   a. Sen. Hotz: I love your work at the food pantry. As a student, how can we support you in that work?
      i. Love that question, as students in the Senate talking to the administration about how it would be great to have more funding towards running the pantry, or you can spread the word to constituents that it exists for them. We hear some students don't even know the pantry exists, so spreading the word would be great.
   b. Sen. Regalado: Thanks for coming and sharing your time. This gives me motivation for my future after ASUNM.
      i. I listened to that presentation on food security last meeting and I serve on the basic needs task force. We are working as much as we can to raise awareness about these issues.
   c. Sen. Harper: It was great to hear your expertise, is there any advice you have for people in student government and carrying this knowledge into our lives?
      i. As a Senator, be open to the possibility of what UNM could be. It can be small things that impact students and it will be worth it. You may end up a faculty member and be able to impact students even more in the future.
   d. Sen. Polsin: What was your favorite memory from your time as Senator?
      i. Being in the old ASUNM office and hanging out in the lounge for our office hours and chatting with Senators, it was a great time just hearing and understanding people's point of view.
   e. Sen. Mondloch: I've known you since freshman year, what advice do you have for us Senators that are graduating soon?
i. I think you should just do the best you can and accept whatever your life is, even if it's not what you wanted. Remember the world is your oyster and you just have to go for it and don't be too hard on yourself.

f. Sen. Rodriguez: Thanks for coming and sharing all your experience.

g. Attorney General Lutz: Thanks for coming, in my sorority, everyone talks about how great a role model you are.

   1. Our final meeting is on Monday. The School of Engineering will have a welcome back day and details will be announced later. Res. Life is doing a fall move out week, their representative also said that if you use a speed pack and it needs to be shipped, you will pay. We mainly spoke about the Capital Outlet request and their ideas. They have no comment on any bills tonight.

6. Boards and Committees
   1. Not much has happened. The Student Publicity Board is finalizing funding plans and has had growth in subscriptions this school year.

7. Public Comment
   1. Ryan Lindquist: Congratulations on making it to the last meeting. If you’re leaving, please stay engaged and meet with me, I can get you in touch with other organizations. Senator Rodriguez became a member of a sorority, congratulations. Senator Polsin became the Panhellenic President, congratulations. Stay engaged and show new Senators the ropes.
   2. Evan Ortega: During Corona and the election, I was really into the news and I was looking for a voice of UNM. I looked at the DailyLobo and I thought it was a real missed opportunity for a campus voice.
   3. Director of Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Deon Watson: Congratulations to Senators who fulfilled their term and for your hard work. For the ones leaving, please stay in touch, and new Senators please work with the DEI and everybody please stay safe and spread love. Happy holidays and stay safe.
   4. Chief of Staff Adam Lopez: Congratulations to all those finishing terms this semester. Shout out to Senator Regalado for the work you’ve done and to Senator Hill and all the finance Senators I worked with, I enjoyed y’all. I know the holidays are rough, if you’re staying in Albuquerque alone you can reach out to me if you want. But please stay safe and take care.

5. Hevyn Heckles: As a student and not a reporter I want to say thanks to Senators who have been supportive as I've just started covering these meetings. Congratulations to those graduating and see the rest of you next semester.

8. ASUNM Senators
1. Sen. Harper: Thanks to all ASUNM members and advisors, to all my committee members, and everyone's hard work. I look forward to the work we can do in the future. Student journalism has been of great value to students. I look forward to working on legislation with y'all next semester and doing great outreach. I'm proud of the work we've done this semester.

2. Sen. Polsin: Bill 18F should not have been failed in S&R, it should be on the agenda today. No matter what happened or if you agreed with the bill, you should've let it be voted on by all senators. It does not matter if you agree, all students should have been able to give their opinion, and we failed in that.

3. Sen. Hill: I was the author of Bill 18F and to clear air, I knew it would be challenging but I welcomed that. I thought it would be on the agenda today because all Senators should have a voice and be able to talk about it. We didn't get that ability because some of y'all decided that the Senate and student’s voices don't matter. I ran on letting the students have a voice, the committee overstepped bounds and blocked us from having an opinion.

4. Sen. Olaguir: When I ran for Senate, I promised to represent minorities on campus and I know I wasn't most active in writing legislation but I did advocate for a student’s voice. We should remember that this is for the students and you have to have good intentions.

5. Sen. Regalado: Just to respond to the commentary on my committee, I understand why you're upset that we didn't get to talk about this in Full Senate. But I think my committee did the right thing.

6. Sen. Hotz: About my report on the Arts and Crafts Studio, the digital artbook is actually already submitted, and more can't be added. But go check it out!

9. Attorney General Law Book Edits
1. No edits, a ‘parle pro’ tip for Senate Aides at the end of this meeting when they’re saying goodbye. You don't have to write everything they say but just who spoke.

      1. Chairman Regalado: We had a long S&R meeting and produced 5 pieces of leg: 2 bills, 2 commendations, and 1 condolence. 4. Discussion
